

Christmas 2013 Newsletter

HOLIDAYS

“BEST WISHES” for the Holiday Season from us at Second Chance to all of you.

The first snow has come as a reminder of the winter that lies ahead. Many people look forward with dread to winter’s arrival, but many others enjoy winter sports and outdoor activities. The arrival of winter also reminds us that Christmas is not far off. It arrived on the shelves of Canadian Tire and Wal-Mart stores the day after Halloween. Christmas brings many wonderful things and activities to the year end, but one small problem often arises – what to get for that certain or special someone. May we remind you that the Second Chance 2014 calendar is now available? It is full of pictures and notations of pets and is a great “discussion” maker. The calendar makes an interesting and inexpensive gift and is sure to be appreciated by any recipient. The Calendar can be purchased online, at the sanctuary,

It has been a busy season of repairs and maintenance at Second Chance. In addition to removal of an old trailer, the ankle-bending patio at the front of the house was removed and the stones were used to lay a walkway for the sanctuary. A small well-worn deck at the portable was upgraded to a larger one and this provided more space for our yard sale fundraisers. A generous donation of concrete by Pic-A-Mix allowed us to put in a nice clean and dry walkway between the house and sanctuary. No more tracking asphalt cuttings into the buildings, no more slippery icy walk between the buildings in winter. It was almost impossible to keep the old gravelly walkway shoveled in winter.

This has been another busy year for Second Chance. The rescues of two pregnant cats and two mothers with kittens seem to have been the tip of a “catberg”. In mid-September, a large red carrying case was dropped off on our driveway. It contained one male cat and two pregnant females. Within a week, one cat gave birth to a litter of 4 kittens and the other to a litter of 6, thus we had an immediate increase of 7% in our cat population. One lady arrived at the sanctuary with two cats in a cardboard box. This lady was on her way to work which meant there was nothing good in the future for these two cats. When the cats went to the vet, it was determined that one cat was pregnant and within one month, there were four beautiful kittens. In total this year, we have had 75 kittens come into the sanctuary. It certainly seems that 2014 is the year of the kitten.

One noteworthy rescue was a young cat hit by a car on Brock Street in Whitby. Upon arrival, we found that the cat, dragging itself by its front feet, was bleeding, afraid, and looking for a place to hide (and likely die). We brought it to our vet where she was diagnosed as being pregnant, having a broken pelvis and crushed hind leg. The kittens were stillborn. Her pelvis was repaired but the crushed leg could not be saved. After treatment and recuperation, she is now in a foster home and available for adoption. We called her “Brock” after the street on which she was injured. Brock is featured on the cover of our 2014 fundraising calendar with a short history on the back cover.
